Solving Second Order Differential Equations Math 308 This Maple session contains examples that show how to solve certain second order constant coefficient differential equations in Maple. Also, at the end, the "subs" command is introduced. First, we solve the homogeneous equation y'' + 2y' + 5y = 0. We'll call the equation "eq1":

This webinar demonstrates working with delay differential equations in Maple, and obtaining and visualizing numerical solutions. Problems are solved, and comparison of systems with/without delay ...

Solving Delay Differential Equations
Analytical solutions are one of the easiest topics to do in Maple, since Maple will do most of the work for you. All you need to know is the differential equation and any initial conditions it may have to obtain the general and particular solution. In order to find the general solution, first define the ODE, and then use the dsolve command.

8 solving differential equations using simulink This is a separable equation. Placing y-variables on the left and t-variables on the right side, we have Z dy y = Z 2 t dt. Integrating both sides, lnjyj= 2lnjtj+C = lnt2 +C. Exponentiating, we obtain the general solution, y(t) = At2, where A = eC. Using the initial condition, we have the solution ...
